

Marleigh Grayer Ryan College Student Writing Prize 2018

(Cover sheet/application. Fill in and submit with paper.)

The New York Conference on Asian Studies (NYCAS) encourages the development of the skills of scholarly writing by awarding annual prizes for excellent student papers dealing with Asia. The Marleigh Grayer Ryan College Student Writing Prize honors the outstanding service of Dr. Marleigh Grayer Ryan, former Dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Professor of Japanese Literature, and Coordinator of Asian Studies at SUNY New Paltz; and longtime Executive Secretary of NYCAS.

Please see NYCAS website for detailed eligibility and award information. Two prizes are awarded each year, one each to an undergraduate and graduate student. Winning papers will be published on the NYCAS website and considered for presentation at the NYCAS meeting. Graduate student papers will be considered for submission to the Council of Conferences Graduate Student Panel held at the Annual Conference of the Association of Asian Studies.

Submission: One essay (maximum) may be submitted by the student author or by a faculty member acting on behalf of a student by e-attachment only. A faculty member may not provide any evaluative comments at the time of nomination. Undergraduate papers are limited to 40 pages. Graduate papers are limited to 60 pages. A submitted paper should stand alone, and not be a segment of a larger work, such as a Senior Thesis, Masters' Thesis, or Doctoral Dissertation.

Entry deadline: June 1, 2018

Notification of awards by August 15, 2018
