Our program is grounded in three principles: neurodiversity, global education and creativity. We aspire to help students develop communication skills, global awareness, and self-confidence and that happens by building a bridge between two schools across the world! We have been working with Calcutta Rescue (Kolkata, India) and School 31 (Buffalo, NY) for three years and our experience has shown that students need mentors to become global scholars. We welcome applications from university students from various disciplines who are interested in leading this program in Buffalo, NY or other cities throughout the U.S. Visit our website or email, beyondtheblocklearning@gmail.com .
